DIPLOMATIC PRIVILEGES AND IMMUNITIES

DRAFT CONVENTION ON THE RESEARCH IN INTERNATIONAL LAW, 1932

26 American Journal of International Law
(Supp. 1932) p. 22.

ARTICLE 15. When a member of a mission, a member of his family, or a member of the administrative personnel is en route to or from his post in the receiving State, a third State shall permit his transit and shall accord to him during the transit such privileges and immunities as are necessary to facilitate his transit; provided that the third State has recognized the government of the sending State and is notified of the official character of such person.
